Good afternoon. I am writing to provide some clarity over the announcement yesterday from Minister Rob Fleming.

Although face to face classes have been suspended, schools in British Columbia are not closed. Doors will be open and there will be staff available in the building.

The School District is working on a strategy where students are able to continue to learn during this difficult time. Every effort is being made so that high school students are able to complete courses, and that elementary students are able to stay connected to their schools and teachers.

Please stay tuned to the District website and to emails from your school. We will announce our plans as they develop.

Sincerely,

Carey Stewart
Superintendent, SD50
