Superintendent's Report to the Board Regular Meeting of Sept. 26th, 2023

Dang ad dii guuda ga – Nice to be with you!

Dáng kings .ahl 'áng dil xáng.áelgang – It's good to see you!

Welcome to September - Sk'aagli Kung¹ (Chum Salmon Month) | Hlgid.ún Kungáas² (Goose Month)

Although the first few weeks of the school year have flown by, the excitement of Sept. 5th was palpable in each of our schools. In addition to wishing our 2023 graduates the very best with all they have planned for this year, I want to warmly welcome each of our students and their families to this school year. I am including a photograph of my great-niece Neena headed to her first day in grade 2. The joy in Neena's face, accompanied by the many ways her school has immensely benefitted her, reminds me of the many reasons I LOVE public education. I often hear how many stories Neena shares at supper time about her school days, so I hope that dinner tables across Haida Gwaii are filled with stories of all that is happening in our schools.

In addition to welcoming students, I also want to welcome all new and returning SD 50 staff. Hawaa for choosing SD 50 to share your talents. I look forward to meeting you all at some point this school year and hearing your stories.

To welcome students and staff to our schools, our schools had to be ready for the first day of school and, so thank you to all SD 50 staff that worked over the summer months to prepare our schools for Sept. 5th! I want to give a special shout-out to the small group of individuals who have been working hard to plan for the Unite Youth Conference in Masset on Oct. 13th. To create a day focussed on student mental health for all SD 50 high school students is no small feat, so please know how thankful we are!

This year, all British Columbians will recognize the newly announced statutory holiday recognizing the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation. Our schools will organize activities for Orange Shirt Day on Sept. 29th, and there will be no school on Monday, Oct. 2nd, as the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation falls on the weekend. In recognizing the importance of this day, I encourage our staff, our students and their families to consider participating in one of the many events that will be taking place on Haida Gwaii.

Our board worked hard last year to finalize our 2022 – 2026 SD 50 Strategic Plan. The Strategic Plan and the 'Action Plan' accompanying that document will guide our work for the next several years. I have added 2023 – 24 strategic objectives to each goal area page in this report and have highlighted in yellow, those objectives being reported on within the report. Readers may notice that I have edited the formatting of my monthly report to the Board to better align with the newly created Strategic Plan Poster that our talented IT Manager, Steve Goffic, designed.

This promises to be an excellent school year, and I welcome you all back!

Respectfully,

Manu Madhok

Interim Superintendent

OUTDOOR LEARNING AT AGNES L. MATHERS (B. COCHRANE)

ALM has committed to getting students on the land as much as possible in order to help them see the value of where they live and how the land contributes to their health and well-being.

In September, we picked huckleberries from our school forest and blueberries from a local farm. We have also committed to field days at Grey Bay within the Kunzalas Heritage Site/Conservancy and Copper Bay at the end of September, supported by the Haida Role Model program and local retired teachers. ALM students have also utilized the Haida ways of being to brainstorm and create a list of classroom and school norms.

LEARNING WITH DR. SARA DAVIDSON

We are so pleased that SFU Assistant Professor Dr. Sara Davidson, author of Potlatch as Pedagogy - Learning Through Ceremony in collaboration with her father, renowned Haida artist Robert Davidson, will be joining 50 principals at each of their monthly meetings this school year to deepen our understanding of the Sk'ad'a Principles. As described in a CBC article, the book "explores how traditional Haida cultural practices, like those used in the potlatch, can form the basis of a holistic system of learning."

In Potlatch as Pedagogy: Learning Through Ceremony, Davidson shares nine principles, or sk'ad'a, which in the Haida language means "to learn."

Davidson says these principles, rooted in her father's life experiences, form a foundation for learning and teaching. These include strong relationships, authentic experiences, curiosity, observation, history and story, among others."

GTN recently held its fourth annual "Chicken Run" event. This event creates collaboration across all school grades and is a yearly well-loved icebreaker. Students are selected to randomly generated teams, including participants from grade 8-12 and at least one staff. Senior students are then asked to lead participants through a series of tasks that are videotaped/pictured. No one team wins the event, but instead, students are put forward who show marked leadership through the event. One student from this pool, after some
